NAVIGATION AND PRINTING

The printed contents links to every office and election cycle. The PDF outline continues through state and individual district or statewide race. Race blocks run continuously instead of forcing one state or contest onto its own page. Every candidate record retained in the archive appears with party, votes, share, and incumbent status when available.

Special-election records remain winner-level when the underlying archive contains no complete candidate tally. A dash means unavailable, not zero. Provisional or uncalled contests are labeled and are not converted into certified outcomes.

Administration Analysis

James A. Garfield entered office after one of the closest national popular-vote elections in American history. The historical ledger used here gives Garfield 4,453,837 votes to Winfield S. Hancock's 4,446,014, a source-specific lead of 7,823 votes, while the constitutional result was a clearer 214-155 Electoral College victory. Republicans also held the official election control of the 47th House, 151 seats to 128 Democrats and 14 members in other columns. The Senate opened evenly balanced at 37 Republicans and 37 Democrats, with one Independent and one Readjuster; Vice President Arthur initially supplied the Republican tie-breaking vote. Garfield's presidency lasted 199 days. The only two House vacancy elections held during it, Michigan 7 and Maine 2, were Republican holds.

SPECIAL-ELECTION REGISTER

Two voting-seat House special elections were held between Garfield's inauguration and death: John T. Rich retained Michigan 7 for Republicans on April 5, and Nelson Dingley Jr. retained Maine 2 on September 12. Both members were seated when the House convened on December 5, after Arthur had succeeded Garfield.

Federal Special-Election Winner Register

The 1881 annual House-election table supplies the winner-level vacancy register. It includes only elections held from March 4 through September 19, 1881; later 1881 elections belong to Volume 26 for Chester A. Arthur.

U.S. Senate Results

Every archived statewide Senate ballot contest is included. Short-term, full-term, and special general-election ballot lines remain separate when the archive records them separately.

The Garfield-Arthur ticket defeated Hancock-English 214-155 in the Electoral College. The official 47th House division was R 151 - D 128 - National 10 - Readjuster Democrat 2 - Independent 1 - Independent Democrat 1. The Senate opened 37 Republicans, 37 Democrats, one Independent, and one Readjuster, with Vice President Arthur available to break ties.

Methodology and Sources

METHOD. Regular contests are grouped by office, cycle, state, and district. Every candidate object in the archive is rendered. Vote and percentage fields are printed only when present. Presidential electoral allocations, special circumstances, certification status, incumbency flags, and prior-cycle comparisons are retained where available. The dense layout removes forced state page breaks but does not remove race data.

KNOWN LIMITS

- This volume and the Chester A. Arthur volume both include the 1880 election. Garfield was elected president; Arthur was elected vice president and inherited the same administration after Garfield died on September 19, 1881.

- Published 1880 national popular-vote totals vary. The candidate and state ledger here is one internally consistent historical transcription; National Archives electoral totals control the constitutional result.

- California split its six electors: Hancock received five and Garfield one. The state race card therefore separates the electoral allocation from the statewide popular-vote winner.

- The 47th Congress preceded the Seventeenth Amendment. Senators were generally selected by state legislatures, so no direct-popular Senate race ledger is printed; the official opening Senate division appears in the administration-control table.

- The Clerk's continuous election-statistics PDF series begins in 1920. Searchable candidate tables therefore use structured historical transcriptions checked against official House, Senate, National Archives, annual House-election, and historical roster controls.

- The official 47th House division is R 151 - D 128 - Other 14. Multiple election contests later changed who sat; individual race notes preserve certified-return crosschecks, including the Iowa 6 closing-day contest.

- The Garfield-term special-election register contains Michigan 7 on April 5 and Maine 2 on September 12. Both were Republican holds. Five later 1881 House specials occurred under Arthur and are intentionally excluded here.

- Special-election rows are winner records, not claims of complete candidate-level vote returns. Where the annual table gives the winner's share but not a complete vote ledger, no total or margin is estimated.
